Mr. E. Bowley Whipple

We, the boys of the Class of 1951, deem it a privilege to dedicate this book to MR. E. BOWLEY WHIPPLE in appreciation of his long and loyal service to N. B. V. H. S.

His untiring effort and profound knowledge have earned for him the admiration and devotion of everyone whose good fortune it has been to be associated with him.

We hope that in the years to come, Mr. Whipple, you will continue to enjoy the success and happiness your efforts have earned for you.

Mrs. Margaret Cameron

The Girls of the Graduating Class of 1951
respectfully dedicate
"The Mariner"

to

to show our gratitude for her kindness and help. She has been a faithful friend and an inspiration for all to follow. May each year in the future bring her the happiness she richly deserves!

MR. WILLIAM PITTENDREIGH

MISS HELEN KNAPP

MR. OLDFIELD

We, the students of New Bedford Vocational High School deeply regret that Mr. William Pittendreigh, Head of the Machine and Welding Departments, Miss Helen Knapp, Instructor in the Household Arts Department, Mr. Thomas Oldfield, Instructor in the Related Department and Mr. Andrew Lees, of the Machine Department have left us or are about to leave us. They have been loyal and interested friends as well as teachers.

Mr. Pittendreigh with his long conscientious years of service, Miss Knapp with her kind, unfailing courtesy, Mr. Oldfield, with his keen, penetrating mind and Mr. Lees with his unassuming, gentlemanly manner will all be greatly missed at our school.

That their future may be happy and contented and their fondest wishes may be realized is the sincere hope of the faculty and students at Vocational High.

Prophecy

Class Prophecy

This is your early morning television announcer with another in our series of great historical events. On this June morning of 1961 we have the honor of bringing to you an account of the reunion of our fellow graduates of the New Bedford Vocational High School, Class of 1951.

The long planned event is to be in the form of a banquet and also includes the dedication of a sports arena to the honorable Mr. Mulvey and the honorable Mr. F. S. Holt in appreciation of their extraodinary work with the great 1951 Soccer and Track Teams.

Mr. Holt has recently retired to become the track coach for Harvard and Mr. Mulvey is soccer coach for Notre Dame.

The sports arena has been erected on the former site of (you should pardon the expression!) New Bedford High School, which has been moved to Crow's Island. The High School was demolished by the Reed Eradicator Corporation of the West End. Local 3/4. The multilating crew was composed of John Caswell, Bill Fairclough, and Ernie Wetzel under the brilliant supervision of the new head of the Carpentry Department, Mr. James Reed.

This magnificent colosseum was constructed by Knox and Hession Construction Engineering Corporation of America, Incorporated. The Vice-President is Louis Fortin and the third Vice-President is "Nine Finger," Charlie Houbre. The design of this colossus among arenas was created by Hugh Shanahan, Teddy Kosiba and Al Desmarais. The magnificent and elaborate marquee was erected through the courtesy of Doyle Signs Incorporated — the lettering is by Raymond Doyle and the pictorial work is by Ginnie Belben.

My classmates are beginning to file in. Let's look at some of the people in the assembly. Suddenly we hear the blare of trumpets above the cheering throng and our first woman President, Gloria Lachapelle, arrives. She is in her new Cadillac chauffered by her Vice-President, Gerry Deveau. Deveau has just finished two terms as president. He is taking the job of Vice-President so that he may have more time to spend on his pictures.

Next to arrive is the man who has just become "Mr. America" — Chauncey Shaw. He got the title by marrying "Mrs. America," who is the former Margaret O'Brien. Lucky guy!

Who is this dejected soul? Why, it's Larry Tefft, manager of the New York Yankees. He has just lost the services of Ray Sykes, his star hurler, who seriously injured his pinky finger chasing a pop-up.

Next come the happy throng from Boston, our hard working Red Sox Immortals, Art "Spit-Ball" Vasconcellos, Bill "Slugger" O'Mara, Louis "Hi-Ya" Makuch, Paul "Ace" Anthony, and Ronald "Tip-Top" Travers.

Sneaking in through the stage door is Norman "Spitalny" Eccleston and his world famous All-Girl Orchestra. (Norman doesn't have to pay the girls, they fight to win his favor. He's still the lady-killer he always was.) Featured instrumentalists are Jacqueline Battistelli (glockenspiel), Irene Labonte (Tuba), Joyce Wood (Bass Fiddle), Lucille Michaud (drums) and the star soloist, Dorothy Auclair and her magic Kazoo.

Dodging the autograph hounds come the "Tennessee Valley Boys" (the farthest west they have ever been is Westport) with the world famous Guitarist, Ken "Dragalong" Briggs, Bill "Two-Gun" Reis on the washboard, and Nat "Tennessee Ernie" McCombe playing the shovels.

Now we switch back to the main entrance where we find Dick Manzone and his shanghaied crew stepping out of his futuramically styled 1933 Plymouth. The only way he could get anyone to ride in his "car" was by brute force. Bribery wouldn't do it. They value their lives more than money. His crew is made up of "Bill" Mandly,

"Tony" Gonsalves and "Red" Gallagher. They are greeted by the manager of the arena, Roger Daviault, who has resigned as director of the State, Empire and New Bedford Theatres to take over this job. His assistant is Jack Lannon. Jack has just been court-martialed and as a result, he must turn in his flashlight. It seems he showed a patron to the right seat (an unforgivable crime among ushers).

Oh, here comes Irene Berry and Marilyn Hammond with a truck load of delicious doughnuts from their "Hole-In-One Doughnut Shoppe". Helping them unload is Lucia Bertrand. She is eating her commission on the side and complaining about the large holes in the doughnuts.

The last two limousines have arrived. Wilbur Teves is driving the first car bought with funds swindled from the class treasury. This explains his reason for retiring. Helping Teves unload is Jordan Perry, the new president of Brink's Incorporated. On entering they stop at "Cas" Cabral's Poosh-A-Cart to buy some sandwiches and fava beans which are crushed by the "bean machine", an engineering masterpiece made by George Pimental, Al Holt and Bob Ames.

Other celebrities are due to arrive later, but right now, let's take a walk over to the arena kitchen and see what's burning. Upon entering we pick up a menu to see if there's anything fit to eat. We find the meal consists of chicken, imported from Acushnet through the courtesy of the Acushnet Chicken Growers Association of America, owned and operated by John Gonet, Octave Leconte, and Ernest Mondou. Transportation was supplied by the Arthur Hardy Trucking Concern.

The burning aroma that we smell is another one of Sarah-Jane Lima's poor excuses for a cake. Poor Alex Knox! We glance out the window and see sneaking up the hill two tramps trying to crash the banquet. Sorry, folks, my mistake! It's Russ Clark and Dick "Ding" Donaghy dragging in the scallops and fish for the banquet. By the way, our cooks are Esther Chaney and "Barb" Tootle, who are both happily married.

Those master electricians, Roland LeClair and Charles St. Pierre, complete with gas masks, are turning on their newly installed air-conditioning system to remove the odor left by our gallant fishermen.

Now we enter the big dining room where we find the chow hounds Jack Wiley, Dave Lawrence, and "Buzz" Hodgins with the tablecloth tucked in their shirts. They keep banging on the table with their knives and forks, trying to get service.

Seated at the head table is our millionaire junk dealer, Paul St. Germaine and with him is Jim "Rip" Honohan who is glancing nervously at his watch. He has to be in the house by six o'clock.

George Hebert is by himself in a corner trying to get some one to listen to tales of his adventures on the high seas. His buddy, Jean Fredette, was unable to attend. It seems his wife had to pay his fine for speeding. Now he doesn't go anywhere, anymore.

After finishing the meal, our master of ceremonies, Don Bowman, introduces the chief speaker for the evening, Admiral Jumbo Constant. He will speak to us without the aid of a microphone on the subject, "The Ups and Downs of Seasickness."

Following the speech, we have a short fashion show, compliments of Frances Fostin who is the owner of New York's most famous dress shop. Our glamorous lovelies, Ann Forrest, Norma Hornsyld and Joan Gobeil, will model hats designed by their boss, "Bunny" Timms. The girls arrived at the fashion show just in time; they were down at John's Variety Store.

With the banquet festivities over, we take you to our large gym and basketball court where we shall see a basketball game between Bob Lacroix's professional all stars, "The Argyle Sox" and the girls team, the "Holey Sox." Our star studded line-up for the "Argyle Sox" is Jimmy "Dribble" Miller, Wes "Dreamy" Dreher, Dick "Barrell" Lavimoniere (Dick has lost weight. He has dwindled down to a mere two hundred pounds) and Fred "Hooker" Furtado who is to replace M. Mulvey and Mr. Holt at Vocational High.

Starring for the girls team will be Priscilla Allen, Caroline Santos, Cecile Talbot, Sarah Bulgar and Anna Kraska. All these gals are now married but their housework has kept them in trim.

What's this! Has Lacroix got one of the girl's uniforms on or does his basketball uniform always fit him like that? The girls have brought along their own cheering section, Alice Joseph, Mary Connors, Lorraine St. Aubin, and Delia Ramos. These gals are all telephone operators and it is a relief to them to really let out their voices.

Over at our modern soda fountain on the side lines we see "Dot" Avellar and the Lopes twins, Beatrice and Barbara spilling the drinks over Roland Ross, Eddie Gwozdz and Henry Veit, who came prepared with their rubber aprons. Seated at the end of the counter are Leo Sylvia and "Gert" Sylvaria sipping a soda with two straws. Poor Gert is having quite a time getting any of the drink. Leo can beat her sipping any time.

As an added attraction before the game we find Joe Arruda, Dwight McCombe, Ken Offley, and Fred Tomkiewicz playing the "Anvil Chorus" with hammers, on empty acetylene tanks.

Unable to attend this reunion is Danny Cordeiro. He had to keep his garage open in order to fix Bill Grundy's Ford. It is being taken to the Smithsonian Institute tomorrow. Norman Rezendes is not here either, as he won't leave his job as instructor at Arthur Murray's Dancing School. (June Haver is taking her lesson today).

Wait, what's that loud cheer? It's the crowd welcoming the Ambassador from Sweden, Dick Theg, and his lovely ladies-in-waiting, Beverly Timms and Mary Cosmos. Vivian Raphael, the well-known editor of the Standard Times, is waiting to interview Ambassador Theg.

Just making it before game time are the television stars, Al Holt, Betty Henderson and Valentina Grace. Thinking that they would be charged to see the game, Owen Caldwell, Dave Carreau and Lucien Cormier stayed away. (We're only kidding, fellows!)

Frank Almeida, Bob Caron, Paul Parkin, Jim Shaw and Bob Darling are here but they are sore because we wouldn't use their arena built from empty orange crates.

Paul Methia sends his regrets. He is in Europe, winning new laurels for the American Olympic Team. He keeps in practice by running after the movie starlet, Joan Evans, who is making a picture in France. Methia's trainers are Lawrence Vandini and Donald Thomas. They are not as thorough as Mr. Holt!

Henry Parkin's telegram came in at the same time as Methia's. Henry had to stay in New York to do the "Broadway Open House" show on T. V. Paul Dupuis and George Valley are with him taking over the dancing and singing roles.

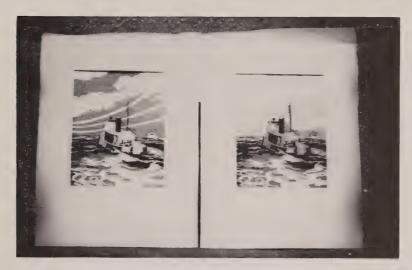

Wait a minute, there's a commotion on the playing floor! Marcelino, the best dressed referee in the country, has just been hit on the read by two female fans, Orize Bourque and Regina Winsper. The girls win the game by the tight score of 99-3. Lacroix is the high scorer for the night — which is a good trick considering the score.

Another lunch is served (our appetites are as good as they were ten years ago) and then it is time to leave.

We are happy in the knowledge that our famous school buddies are all doing well but we wish we had more time to continue our "gab-fest" about the good old days at "Voke."

Well, everyone has said "goodbye" and so must your T. V. announcer. So long, you guys and dolls of Vocational High!

Virginia Belben Raymond Doyle Russell Clark Norman Rezendes Lawrence Tefft

Raymond A. Doyle was selected as first place winner of a Massachusetts Regional Exhibit for his multi-colored silk screen print of a pilot tug-boat going down the harbor for a steamer entering port.

The print was accepted and exhibited at the Institute of Contemporary Art in Boston. The contest was sponsored nationally by the Scholastic Magazine.

We are all very proud of Ray and his excellent teacher, Mr. Harold Kenworthy.

JUNIOR PROM QUEEN

Filmy gowns, pretty girls, wonderful music, handsome boys — all at our Junior Prom! Charlie St. Fierre and Orize Bourque were crowned our King and Queen. Gertrude Sylvaria and Dick Theg, another handsome couple, did the crowning.

HARVEST DANCE

Getting the decorations up for the Harvest Dance was almost as much fun as the Dance itself. We all had a grand time dancing to Gene Marshall's Orchestra — and made money for the Class besides!

Our own Mrs. Dunn, well-known and well-loved by innumerable students, is pictured here with some of her Sophomores. We seniors will remember her great patience and kindness always.

We know of no other school Director who, in addition to his difficult duties as administrator, gives so generously of his time and effort to the sports program of his school.

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1951, of New Bedford Vocational High School, City of New Bedford, Bristol County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do declare this to be our last will and testament:

We hereby bequeath the following:

To Mr. Mackintosh, we leave our appreciation for his kindness and the pleasant manner he has always shown us during our four years at Vocational High.

To Miss Early, we wish to extend our sincere thanks for her graciousness and concern for each of us.

To the Faculty, we leave our deep gratitude for their efforts to make our future successful and profitable.

Lorraine St. Aubin leaves her Algebra book to some lucky Junior.

Paul Methia leaves his track shoes to Jack Brogden and Robert Michaels (They say Methia's using wings now.)

Gertrude Sylvaria leaves taking Leo Sylvia along with her.

Charlie St. Pierre leaves still saying, "Are you for real?"

Gloria Lachapelle leaves her morning cup of coffee at John's to some comfort-loving Junior.

Leo Sylvia leaves his deepest sympathy to those struggling Juniors who are beginning to learn what "Work" means.

Nate McCombe leaves his ability to sleep anytime, any place.

Lawrence Tefft leaves so Mr. Whipple can have some peace and quiet.

Raymond Doyle leaves saying "Good Night" to everyone.

Wilbur Teves leaves with gray hair. Could it be from studying too hard? No, it couldn't!

"Buzz" Hodgins leaves while the leaving is good.

"Teddy" Kosiba leaves his sponge cushion to the next Senior who seeks comfort.

Hugh Shanahan leaves with all that is movable.

"Jimmy Miller" leaves nothing because he has nothing to leave.

Octave Leconte leaves his school bus tickets to some other business man.

Robert Hession leaves with his pennies.

Dwight McCombe leaves trying to grow sideburns as long as the Cisco Kid's.

Fred Furtado leaves via the Fairhaven Bridge.

We all leave a little sad at parting.

In Witness thereof, we set our hand, seal, and signature on this twentieth day of June in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Fifty One.

Signed, Sealed and Declared by the Class of 1951 of the New Bedford Vocational High School to be their last Will and Testament.

His achievement attests to the ability of Coach Holt who has guided training of the Vocational trackmen for many years devoting long and arduous hours to developing such champions as young Methia.

. . . . Standard-Times

"Albert Porter of New Bedford Vocational High beat William Squires of Arlington High School in a record-breaking Class B Imile run at the Massachusetts High School Athletic Asociation's 34th Indoor Meet in the Boston Garden. Porter's time of 4:34.5 was a new record breaking last year's mark of 4:37.4."

. . . . Standard-Times

"When asked to what he atributes his success, Methia said, without blinking an eyelash, 'To Coach Holt,' of course. He's the greatest guy in the world. Why, look at some of the stars he has turned out. Fellows like Porter and Michaels are among the best."
